In order to sustain our business, we are implementing a scheme to protect the company's assets against any internal or external malice or negligence. Protecting products against acts of potential sabotage, vandalism or terrorism is an integral part of such a policy.

To define and oversee this scheme, an organization has been established at Group level and with each of its entities. The structure of this scheme, as laid down in the Security Manual, is as follows:

- Definition and deployment of protective rules common to all entities formalized in the:
 - Good security practice guide
 - Site physical protection guide
 - Information protection guide
 - Sensitive industrial know-how protection guide
- Identification of specific risks and deployment of appropriate means of control according to the rules on:
 - Security risk management
- Assessment, analysis and improvement of the effectiveness of the measures implemented

In addition, all of our factories are certified according to the FSSC 22000 scheme, which guarantees control of the safety of foodstuffs and therefore of the products from our production lines.
